

CSI 2020: The Empire and the Individual
July 13-18, 2020
Brown University

New this year: 1 graduate credit is available through the University of Massachusetts (Boston) for attending CSI. Please email the director of CSI for a syllabus and more information.

Featuring public lectures by:

Deborah Boedecker, Brown University, "How Individual Persians 'Resisted' Their King"

Kathleen Coleman, Harvard University, "Staffing the Provincial Bureaucracy: Pliny in Bithynia"

Dan-EI Padilla Peralta, Princeton University, "Epistemicide: The Roman Case"

Sasha-Mae Eccleston, Brown University, "The Cost of Belonging"

Kurt Raaflaub, Brown University, "War, Peace, and the Individual in the Ancient World"

Sailakshmi Ramgopal, Columbia University, "The Mithridatic Massacre: Genocide and Identity in 88 BCE"

Aaron Seider, College of the Holy Cross, "Confounding Empire: Ovid's Wife and the Spaces of Exile"

Elizabeth Vandiver, Whitman College, will give a 3 lecture series on Classical reception in English literature of the early 20th century.

"Striving After Learning: The British Working Class and Classical Knowledge in the Edwardian Age"

"Individual Responsibility and Collective Guilt: Orestes and Odysseus as Paradigms in Richard Aldington's War Novels"

"Modernists Versus Scholars: Ezra Pound, Richard Aldington, H.D., and Translating the Classics"

Featuring courses taught by:

Jeri DeBrohun, Brown University, "Dido, Hannibal, Carthage: 'Necessary' Victims of Rome's Imperial Destiny?"

Sasha-Mae Eccleston, Brown University, "Affect and Matter in the Roman Empire"

Hanne Eisenfeld, Boston College, "Pindar's Victory Odes: Songs and Contexts"

John Higgins, Smith College, "He Longed for the Desert: Turning Your Back on Rome"

Joanna Kenty, Radboud University, "Vote Catiline!"

Peter Machinist, Harvard University, "What Happens When A Ruler is Replaced? The Problem of Succession in Antiquity"

Bill Morse, College of the Holy Cross, "Milton's Lycidas and Pastoral Elegy"

Sailakshmi Ramgopal, Columbia University, "Romans and Italians: Empire-Making before the Social War"

Aaron Seider, College of the Holy Cross, Tragedy's Empire: Individual Agency in Antiquity and Beyond

Roberta Stewart, Dartmouth College, Problems in Roman Slavery: Texts and Contexts

2020 costs are forthcoming. 2019 costs were:

Basic Program $250

Optional lodging $290

meals $190

parking $90

scholarships available

CSI is open to everyone interested in the Classics and how the Classics relate to today's world. Attendees must be 18 or over. The program is suitable for undergraduate students. More information may be found at www.caneweb.org.